CURATORIAL STATEMENT

MINI MASTERS

This intimate showcase at the Association of Arts Pretoria celebrates the power of scale, presenting the work of masters in miniature - refined, original artworks crafted in small format.

Each of the 43 artists has been invited to exhibit three small-scale pieces, representing a wide variety of artistic mediums and styles. Though modest in scale, these works carry a powerful presence, distilling vision and artistry into concentrated form.

For collectors and art enthusiasts, it is a rare opportunity to encounter and acquire exceptional artworks in an accessible and highly collectible form.

Inviting you to look closer, the Mini Masters exhibition proves that great art transcends size.

The Listener, 2025

Bronze sculpture

45 cm x 18 cm x 15 cm

R38 587,50

(incl. 15% VAT on commission)

These seated rabbit figures inhabit the boundary between the human and the animal, the familiar and the mythic.

Their elongated ears and quiet, introspective postures suggest both attentiveness and detachment, as if they are listening to worlds beyond our own. Each carries a different gesture - thoughtful, relaxed, questioning - hinting at the multiplicity of inner states beneath stillness.

Cast in rough, tactile surfaces, they embody the rawness of clay and the weight of bronze, bridging instinct with contemplation. Together, they form a trio of silent companions, inviting us to pause, observe, and reflect on the subtler rhythms of existence.

Carol Cauldwell is a South African sculptor whose practice explores the intersection of whimsy and contemplation through anthropomorphic forms. Working primarily in clay and bronze, she creates rabbits, hippos, and other creatures imbued with human presence and gesture.

Her figures often merge playful charm with subtle social commentary, inviting viewers to pause between humor and introspection. Cauldwell's work has been exhibited in many galleries, where her distinctive style—rooted in hand-worked texture and narrative resonance—continues to attract collectors and audiences seeking both wit and quiet reflection.
